

ELLEN GALINSKY

President and Co-Founder

Families and Work Institute

Ellen Galinsky is President and Co-Founder of Families and Work Institute. She is the author of over 40 books and reports, including the groundbreaking Ask The Children, selected by The Wall Street Journal as one of the best work life books of 1999. She has published more than 100 articles in academic journals, books and magazines. At the Institute, Ellen Galinsky directs or co-directs the National Study of the Changing Workforce, the most comprehensive nationally-representative study of the U.S. workforce; the National Study of Employers, a nationally representative study tracking trends in employment benefits, policies and practices; When Work Works, a project on workplace effectiveness and flexibility now in 30 communities and three states funded by the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation; and The Supporting Work Project, a Ford Foundation project that is funding communities across the country to connect lower- and mid-wage employees to publicly funded work support through their employers. She is the Program Director of the annual Work Life Conference co-convened by The Conference Board and Families and Work Institute, and she staffs The Conference Board's Work Life Leadership Council. Ellen Galinsky also directs Mind in the Making (MITM), a project on the science of early learning that includes a television science show, videos for families and Learning Modules for Early Childhood Teachers and is writing a book on essential learning-related skills for HarperStudio, to be published in early 2010.